2012 State of Small Family Child Care Homes in Alabama

Strengths

- Family child care homes caring for one or more unrelated children are required to be licensed.
- Routine and complaint based inspections are unannounced.
- Family child care providers are required to undergo a background check that includes using fingerprints for state and federal records check and a check of the child abuse and neglect registry, but a check of the sex offender registry is not required.
- Providers are required to complete 24 hours of annual training, including CPR and first aid.
- Health standards address nine of 10 basic standards. Providers are not required to address universal health precautions.
- Safety standards address nine of 10 basic standards. Providers are not required to address door locks/safety gates.

Weaknesses

- Inspections of family child care homes are only conducted once every two years.
- Neither complaint nor inspection reports are online.
- In offering activities, providers are only required to address active play and limit TV.
- Providers are allowed to care for three infants and toddlers when older children are present.

Recommendations

- Increase inspections of family child care homes to at least once a year.
- Make both inspection and complaint reports available online.
- Include a check of the sex offender registry in background checks.
- Require providers to address all of the recommended developmental domains in offering activities.
- Limit providers to caring for not more than two infants and toddlers when older children are present.
